The court has been advised that the parties have not reached settlement on the issue of attorneys' fees. The parties are reminded that under Section X and paragraph 40, respectively, of the consent decrees filed December 16, 2005, plaintiffs are allowed 120 days after entry of the consent decrees to file a motion for attorneys' fees. No extensions of time with respect to that date in the above-titled actions will be considered. Moreover, only motions that are appropriate given the posture of the cases, in which the consent decrees have been entered, will be considered.
